Privacy Policy

Last updated: July 2026

We take your privacy seriously and keep things simple. This page explains what information we collect when you visit wellsmarine.au, how we use it, and how to get in touch if you have questions.

What we collect

When you use our contact form, we receive the details you submit - typically your name, email address, phone number, and message. Your submission is sent directly to us by email and is not stored on this website.

We also use Google Analytics to understand how visitors use our site. Google Analytics collects information such as pages visited, time on site, and approximate location derived from your IP address, via cookies placed on your device.

How we use it

We only use your contact details to respond to your enquiry. As we do not store submissions, we have no ability to contact you for marketing purposes. We do not sell or share your personal information with third parties.

This website uses Google Analytics and a hosting provider to operate. These services may collect limited technical data such as IP addresses and pages visited as part of normal website operation.

Cookies

Google Analytics uses cookies to collect usage data. Cookies can be limited or blocked through your browser settings.

Third-party links

This website may contain links to external websites. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of those sites and recommend you review their policies independently.

Changes to this policy

We may update this policy from time to time. The date at the top of this page reflects the most recent version.
